

Local fiber optic patch cord customization price

Article Overview

Customized fiber optic patch cords typically range from $10 to $50 per unit, with additional setup or delivery fees depending on specifications and order volume.

Pricing Factors

The cost of a customized fiber optic patch cord depends on several key factors:

- Fiber Type: Single-mode (OS2) or multimode (OM3, OM4, OM5) fibers affect both performance and price .
- Connector Type: LC, SC, MPO/MTP, or specialty connectors require precise alignment and polishing, which can increase costs .
- Cable Length and Jacket: Longer cables and specialized jackets (LSZH, armored) add to the unit price .
- Customization: OEM/ODM branding, custom labels, or logos typically incur a setup fee of $30-$100, though bulk orders can reduce per-unit costs .
- Testing and Certification: Patch cords with IL/RL test reports, 3D interferometer measurements, or end-face inspection results may cost more due to quality assurance .

Local Delivery and Additional Fees

In Hong Kong, for example, commercial deliveries may add HK$100, while orders over HK$3,000 can qualify for free delivery . Local suppliers may also offer configur...
