

Monaco General Optical Cable Price Quote

Article Overview

Monaco General Optical Cable prices vary based on type, core count, and order volume, with bulk orders typically priced per meter or per foot.

Estimated Pricing

Monaco optical cables are available through distributors and factory suppliers, with prices influenced by specifications such as LSZH vs. PVC jackets, fiber core count, and pre-terminated vs. field-spliced cables. For bulk orders, ex-factory prices in 2025 ranged from approximately $0.05 to $0.50 per foot, depending on quality and material standards, with LSZH cables costing 25-40% more than standard PVC due to safety and environmental requirements (Wolontek, 2025) .

Factors Affecting Cost

- Cable Type and Core Count: Higher core counts (e.g., 144-core vs. 12-core) increase material costs.
- Material Specifications: LSZH jackets are more expensive than PVC but safer in fire-prone environments.
- Pre-Terminated vs. Field Splicing: Pre-terminated cables cost more upfront but reduce labor costs by up to 70% on-site.
- Order Volume: Purchasing full reels (10 km+) directly from manufacturers lowers unit cost compared to per-meter purchases....
