

Where can I buy high-voltage distribution boxes

Article Overview

High-voltage distribution boxes can be purchased from specialized electronics suppliers, industrial manufacturers, and online marketplaces offering both standard and custom solutions.

Recommended Suppliers

1. EG Electronics EG Electronics offers High Voltage Power Distribution Units (HV PDUs) suitable for industrial and electric vehicle applications. Their units handle voltages from 60 VDC to 1000 VDC and include features like controlled switching, short-circuit protection, and operational safety. They provide both standard platforms and customer-specific solutions tailored to electrical, mechanical, and environmental requirements . Visit their website to explore options: EG Electronics HV PDUs.
2. HUBER+SUHNER HUBER+SUHNER provides modular high-voltage distribution units (mHVDU 800) designed for electric vehicles and hybrid systems. These units are customizable, compliant with global automotive standards, and compatible with other high-voltage components like RADOX cables. They are robust, flexible, and suitable for harsh environments . More information is available at HUBER+SUHNER HV Units.
3. Alibaba Alibaba offers a wide range of high-voltage distribution boxes, including single and double busbar systems for industrial, commercial, and renewable energy applications. These boxes are constructed from durable materials like steel, aluminum, stainless steel, or polycarbonate, and often include thermal insulation and copper busbars for high efficiency .
