

Where can I buy relay protectors

Article Overview

Relay protectors can be sourced from specialized electrical suppliers such as Siemens, ABB, RS Components, and Circuit Breaker Sales, offering both protective relay devices and relay covers for various applications.

Industrial and Utility-Grade Protective Relays

For high-performance protection in power grids and industrial systems, you can consider:

- Siemens SIPROTEC Relays: These include universal protection relays for feeders, lines, and motors in medium-voltage grids. SIPROTEC 5 and SIPROTEC V series offer digital substation integration, power quality monitoring, and customizable protection functions .
- ABB Protection Relays: ABB provides numerical and multifunctional relays suitable for medium-voltage and distribution systems, with programmable features for precise protection and control .
- Circuit Breaker Sales: Offers a wide range of protective relays, from simple overcurrent induction types to complex relays for utility transmission and distribution systems, including renewal parts for older models .
