

Wholesale Price of Hot-Selling Fiber Reinforcement Trays

Article Overview

Wholesale fiberglass-reinforced (FRP/GRP) cable trays typically range in price depending on type, size, and load capacity, with suppliers offering factory-direct rates and customization options.

Pricing Overview

Wholesale prices for FRP fiber reinforcement trays vary based on tray type, dimensions, and load capacity. For example, long-span FRP trough-type trays can support 100 kg to 250 kg, with prices influenced by raw material costs and customization requirements such as thickness, width, surface treatment, and color . Factory-direct suppliers often provide competitive wholesale rates, enabling bulk purchases at lower costs compared to retail .

Product Types

- Ladder-type trays: Provide ventilation and are ideal for heavy-duty industrial applications .
- Trough-type trays: Enclosed design for cable protection, suitable for outdoor or corrosive environments .
- Perforated trays: General-purpose trays for flexible cable management .
